nce upon a time when a butterfly came to his home Village after a long long period of time the butterfly saw a flower it was no ordinary flower but special so beautiful that anyone may like take it, but there was one problem with that flower i.e it blooms once in a month or 2 or there is possibility that it will continuously bloom for 2 to 3 months , but there was big problem with reaching out to that flower, every time it blooms there are 2 or even more honeybees surrounding it , making it impossible to reach near to it. Although it was impossible to reach near to it and suck the sweet smelling juice, but the butterfly was so determined that his mission was get a seed of that flower as seed will grow to same beautiful flower and after seed grows to that the flower he can suck sweet juice , as the butterfly dreamed. He came to his home Village after lot of failures and he never what accept fail again after coming to his home village so his first priority was to secure his position in his home village and some reputation where he goes for the time being he paused his mission get the seed of the flower as year were passing there was year of huge destruction in that year the flower didn't bloomed even once . As the society was recovering that destruction caused earlier he also started resume his mission to get the seed of the flower but suddenly one day his grandmother died he was depressed. So started focusing on building reputation again. After a long.. long.. wait he finally got the seed of that flower he was so happy and over filled with joy as his will come true soon he started watering the seed everyday an the honeybees guarding the seed had no idea, that butterfly was watering the seed he was sure that flower will bloom after 11 months of watering. So days passed, months passed the seed was growing, after completion of water for 10 months there was a bud , butterfly was so happy completion of the 11th month there was a sign that it will bloom and he watered for the last time the next he saw the flower didn't bloom he was very,very sad as he worked so hard to bloom but he didn't bloom but he didn't lose hope and he watered it for 3 more days as he learned that it takes time to bloom a flower but after 3 days it was again disappointment he was soo sad and thought whether to water it again or not . He was soo sad he started praying to God to make his wish true and he asked one question to God what's up with all the hard he had to raise that bud from nothing, does all his hard work meaning less or what.
